Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
"HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Some observers of the television scene drew this lesson from the first Nielsen ratings of the 1966-67 season: Never underestimate the value of corn.

This is the attitude of certain sophisticates who sniff at the fact that among the top 10 shows in audience ratings were such offerings as "Green Acres," "Gomer Pyle," "The Andy Griffith Show" and "Beverly Hillsbillies."

The most impressive showing among series in the ratings was made by "Green Acres," which captured the No. 2 position below the blockbusting Sunday night movie, "The Bridge on the River Kwai." Do they grow corn on those "Green Acres"?

"I don't think so," says Jay Sommers, who created, co-writes and produces the series. "I think it's a fairly sophisticated show.

Sommers, a rotund, owlshaped veteran of the gag-writing jungle, doesn't really care what the smart crowd thinks of "Green Acres." It's his baby, and as long as the public buys it, that's all that matters.

The inspiration for the show came from Sommers' boyhood, of which two years were spent on a farm in Greendale, N.Y. His stepfather went broke trying to earn a living from the soil, and the experiences remained with the boy. He capitalized on them with a 1950 radio show, "Granby's Green Acres," which starred Gale Gordon and Bea Benaderet, the latter now a star of "Green Acres," sister show of "Petticoat Junction."

When "Green Acres" went on CBS last season, the original plan was to exchange performers with "Petticoat Junction." "We're getting away from that concept now," said Sommers. "It's awfully hard to schedule when the actors will be available, and they are busy enough with their own shows. Besides, I think 'Green Acres' should stand on its own feet."

The series is doing a good job of it. Credit is due Sommers who spends a 12-hour day at General Service Studios, overseeing everything from script to cutting. Despite the rural nature of the show, it is filmed almost entirely on the lot. "The people are important, not the settings," explained Sommers.

"I think it appeals to a basic human urge; everyone would like to buy a farm," Sommers theorized. "And we came up with a brilliant combination in Eddie Albert and Eva Gabor. They work together like a dream."

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Battel

SPOCK • PROOF HUSBAND WANTS RELIEF
Dear Helen: Yeah, I know having a baby is just great, but can't my wife think of anything else? The more she expands, the more she beams in on ONE subject. She measures her middle every day to see how much she's grown. I get a blow-by-blow account of the kicks. He isn't due for two months, but she's got her bag packed, and she is even shopping for baby food!

Will you please tell my wife that having a first baby isn't all that unusual? Almost anyone can do it. — Calm Father

Dear C.F.: Can you? So your wife is all Spock and "span". So simmer down and remember a girl can only have a first baby once. She'll outgrow it. — H.

Dear Helen: Don't you hate people who ask you a question, then when you start to answer it, their eyes wander off and they stop listening. You say a couple of words — no more — and they either break in with another question or they change the conversation around to talk about themselves. Or if they DO let you finish your sentence you can see they haven't heard a word. I swear the next time one of these asks, "What is your husband doing inside these days?" I'll answer, "Recovering from a mild case of leprosy."

What do you do with people like this? — Miffed

Dear Miffed: Avoid 'em if possible. If not, well it's fun to hit them with your kind of answer. Once in a while you get a hilarious doubletake.

Note To Non-Listening Questioners: The least you can do is pretend attention. Look AT. not over or around the questioner. — H.

FOR AND AGAINST
Dear Helen: I'm glad to see you take a stand on controversial issues like therapeutic abortions, but I bet you took a sheltering from the militant workers. (Note From H: That I did — in unvarnished language)

As a doctor I was asked to appear before a State Legislative Committee considering a possible change in our rigid abortion laws.

Naturally I agreed with my colleagues, the State Bar Association and most of the legislators present, that abortions in cases of incest, rape, or strong indication of deformity should be legalized, subject to firm control. Yet nothing was done. Why? Because (I was told by a State Senator) the legislators were afraid of the public uproar from "the few who make the most noise."

If the "majority who make the least noise" would become vocal, we'd have a much saner world, eh, Helen? — Dr. X.

Dear Dr. X: True! I will punish you for advocating murder! I wonder, "Would she be so sure if HER daughter were the victim of a brutal rapist?" — H.

Dear Helen: My parents left when I was a little boy. I'm ten years old now. They left me with my uncle. He buys me clothes when I ask for them, but he doesn't let me call him dumb and stupid when I make little mistakes.

I haven't seen my mother since I was seven. My father told me he would come and see me. He told me that three years ago. I have not seen him since. I am so unhappy. Maybe if you put this in your column he might read it and come back. — Crying On The Inside

Dear Crying: I hope he reads it and comes back — I'm hoping so hard that surely he must feel it!

But if your parents don't return, try to remember we can't always do the things we want them to. And remember too, that your uncle cares about you. He is your substitute father now, and fathers sometimes lose their tempers with 10-year-old boys. Call them "dumb and stupid" before they think.

Be a real son to him (not a dreamer over what is gone) and I think he'll start being a real Dad to you. — H.

Notre Dame Convinces Oklahoma

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
"I thought sure we were playing the Green Bay Packers," said Harry Hettmannsperger. "Who in hell scheduled them?" joked Jim MacKenzie. Hettmannsperger plays line-backer for Oklahoma. MacKenzie is the Sooners' coach and both were recorded for posterity after their previously undefeated team had the misfortune of playing Notre Dame.

The Irish won 38-0, administering the worst beating the Sooners have taken since 1945. Over in the Notre Dame locker-room all was happiness.

"I guess this has to be one of our better games," deadpanned Terry Hanratty, Notre Dame's fine sophomore quarterback.

"It was a good one to win," said Coach Ara Parseghian, "and certainly we didn't expect this kind of score or margin."

Notre Dame now has it easy for the next three weeks when it takes on Navy, Pitt and Duke before playing Michigan State in a game that is looming larger all the time.

The Spartans crushed Purdue 41-20 Saturday, bolstering their No. 2 rating in the Associated Press poll. Notre Dame's performance undoubtedly kept its place atop the rankings secure.

Nick Eddy scored twice for the Irish, which seemed hardly to miss sophomore end Jim Seymour who injured an ankle in the first half and may miss a game.

Michigan State's victory made it nearly a cinch to win a second straight Big Ten title, although it cannot go to the Rose Bowl because it went last year. Bob Apisa scored three times for the Spartans.

Third-ranked UCLA beat California 28-15 behind Mel Farr's two touchdowns and two scoring tosses by Gary Belan. Alabama, No. 4, crushed Vanderbilt 42-6 as quarterback Wayne Trimble passed for two scores and threw for another.

Southern California, No. 5, shut out Clemson 30-0 after Mike Battle, a sophomore safety, rap a punt back 74 yards for a touchdown in the first period. Georgia Tech, No. 6, beat Tulane 38-17 for the Engineers' 14th consecutive victory over the Green Wave.

Seventh-ranked Nebraska survived a scare from Colorado and scored with 53 seconds left, winning 21-19. Eighth-ranked Florida took care of Louisiana State 28-7 as Steve Spurrier connected on 17 of 25 passes for 209 yards and two touchdowns.

Purdue was ninth and Oklahoma, poor thing, was ranked No. 10.

Arkansas in a Romp Over Wichita

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas starts its stretch drive for a third straight Southwest Conference football title this week following an easy 41-0 conquest of outclassed Wichita State.

There will now be no its involved in any Parker success or failure. The Texas Aggies took care of that, spilling Baylor, the only SWC team to conquer the Razorbacks since 1963.

This will no doubt be the most rugged late season schedule Arkansas has faced under Frank Broyles. A&M, rolling along unbeaten in the SWC, tests the Porkers at College Station Saturday in the key game.

After the Aggies will come Rice, Southern Methodist and Texas Tech.

Broyles terms the A&M battle "a great challenge for both football teams. If we can win our next four games we can at least share the conference championship."

Broyles said the game with Wichita was pleasing in that it allowed him to use his reserves for almost 2½ quarters.

The starters blasted in for touchdowns on four of their first five possessions with a fumble stopping the other drive.

David Dickey rambled 60 yards on the opening kickoff to set up a 23-yard march.

The Razorbacks scored on a pair of 11-yard passes from Jon Brittenum to Bruce Maxwell, 15-yard runs by Harry Jones and Eddie Woodlee, a 23-yard pass from Gordon Norwood to Tommy Dixon and a 91-yard pass interception return by Stu Berryhill.

Broyles had praise for Dickey, a sophomore who has apparently overcome a knee injury.

"Dickey ran tremendous," Broyles said. "He looked great carrying the ball. He has great balance and he should help us down the stretch."

Woodlee led the Porker rushers with 49 yards on only four carries, all draws or traps up the middle.

The Wheatshockers failed to make a first down against the starting defense, but piled up plenty of yardage against the reserves. However, they threatened to score only twice, reaching the one in the third quarter and the nine in the last period.

Wichita's John Eckman connected on 28 of 45 passes for 286 yards with end Glenn Melitzer pulling in 12 for 125 yards.

Tigers Win Homecoming Game 15-13

BY JAMES HAMILTON
The Yerger Tigers were at their best Friday night, October 21 as they defeated the Lincoln High Tigers of Camden for their homecoming game by a score of 15-13.

The Tigers, determined to win their homecoming game, took the lead in the first quarter as Ernest Standokes kicked a tremendous 24 yd. field goal putting the Yerger Tigers ahead 3-0.

The Lincoln High Tigers bounced back in the second quarter as their quarterback completed a 37 yd. pass to Don Gaston for a touchdown. The P.A.T. was no good and Lincoln led 6-3 going into the half.

The scores were again reversed as Ernest Standokes took the opening kick-off of the second half and returned it 40 yds. The quarterback, Frank Prater, then took over and completed a 32 yd. pass to Milton Witherspoon for the touchdown. The P.A.T. was no good and the score was now, Yerger 9 and Lincoln 6.

In the fourth quarter, the Lincoln High Tigers again took the lead as Don Gaston scored on a 12 yd. scramble from scrimmage. The P.A.T. was good making the score Lincoln 13 and Yerger 9.

With only 5:08 left in the game, Ernest Standokes again returned a kick-off 45 yds. to put Yerger in Camden's territory. After a 25 yd. drive to Lincoln's 3 yd. line, Ernest Standokes then took the ball in for a touchdown after a pass completion from the quarterback, Frank Prater. The P. A.T. was no good, but the Yerger Tigers were successful in winning their homecoming game with the final score being Yerger 15 and Lincoln 13.

Controversy Over Who Holds Title

By CHARLES GREEN
MEXICO CITY (AP)—Sugar Ramos may be the world's lightweight champion in Mexico, but Carlos Ortiz of New York still is the 135-pound titleholder as far as the World Boxing Association is concerned.

That's what Robert Evans, president of the WBA, said in Louisville, Ky., Sunday night in the wake of the controversial decision here Saturday night by which Ramos was declared the champion when Ortiz refused to re-enter the ring after the fight ond-quarter kickoff, helping Chicago to its victory. The teams traded field goals later in the quarter, then played scoreless ball in the second half.

Philadelphia exploded for 24 points in the second quarter against New York, the first touchdown coming after King Hill threw a 27-yard pass to Tom Woodeshick on a fourth-down, fake punt situation. Norm Shead hit Pete Retzlaff with a 30-yard touchdown pass on the next play.

Fichtner's second interception set up the Browns' second touchdown, Leroy Kelly scoring from two yards out. Mike Howell's lone interception resulted in a 21-yard touchdown pass from Frank Ryan to Paul Warfield. Lou Groza added three field goals for the Browns.

Two touchdown passes from Sonny Jurgensen to Bobby Mitchell in less than three minutes of the fourth quarter enabled Washington to stop St. Louis. Jurgensen first hit Mitchell for 15 yards, then connected for a 44-yarder. Charley Gogolak kicked four Washington field goals.

Green Bay had no trouble remaining on top of the Western Conference as Bart Starr hit for eight of 11 passes in the first half. Rookie Donny Anderson scored twice for the Packers, once on a 77-yard punt return.

OUT OUR WAY

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

In arguments between bridge partners we have noticed that on many occasions the man who is loudest in criticism of his partner is blind to his own errors.

East cashed the ace and king of diamonds and shifted to the four of clubs. South won with the ace and played ace-king and a small trump. East was on lead with the queen of trumps. Meanwhile West who had played the deuce on his partner's club lead had managed to continue showing club weakness by playing the three and five in order.

East played his five of diamonds. South ruffed and proceeded to run off his last three trumps and the good clubs. The last club lead squeezed West. He had discarded down to king-queen of hearts and nine of diamonds while dummy was holding the ace-jack of hearts and seven of diamonds behind him so that no matter what card he discarded dummy would make the last two tricks.

East really lit into his partner for not opening the king of hearts. He pointed out in several thousand words that if West had just opened a heart there would have been no way for South to develop that squeeze.

East was correct about that, but he was entirely wrong in blaming his partner for the unfortunate result of the hand. He would make the same lead West did but would not have played the defense as East did.

When East was in with the queen of spades he should have led a heart, not the five of diamonds. It was up to him to see that he was not going to defeat the four-spade contract unless his partner would show up with the king and queen of hearts and then only if he broke up the squeeze by means of a heart lead.

San Juan Is Called East Miami Beach

By ROBERT BERRELEZ
SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Meet East Miami Beach. That's what some tourists are calling this tropical island boom town — not without reason.

The expensive beachfront strip, inevitably christened the "Gold Coast," is packed with high-rise honeycombed cubes — hotels and apartment houses — swarming with people in shorts, sandals, sports shirts, straw hats.

Ashford Avenue, a sister of Miami Beach's Collins Avenue, snakes through a maze of car rental lots, hot dog and refreshment stands, fancy beachwear stores, discotheques, drugstores, liquor stores and many of those intimate, closet-sized nightspots.

Proclaiming "the bagel has gone Latin," an all-night sandwich shop offers "bagelito completo" — little bagel complete.

San Juan Spanish is colorfully laced with Americanisms; waffles, shopping center, beauty shop, parking lot, layaway plan, cheeseburger. The Spanish equivalent seems either ignored or unknown.

Puerto Rico is part of the United States and its people are no less American citizens than those of the American Southwest, once a part of Spain, where the Spanish language is just recognizable under thick coatings of Anglicisms.

The American relationship — Puerto Rico is a voluntarily associated commonwealth — is stimulating changes among Puerto Ricans themselves and their traditions. The trend is toward total immersion in U.S. culture.

Nationalists and pro-independence groups, a minority, oppose this. The Tourist Board, on the other hand, wants to expand the influx of visitors. It is out to preserve as a lure what remains of Spanish culture.

Old San Juan, what is left of the original walled city founded in 1521, with thick-walled fortresses and narrow, cobbled streets, is the last bastion of a colonial era in this 100-by-35-mile island. The old city's seven square block are jammed into a finger of land jutting into the Atlantic. La Fortaleza, a fort built in 1533, is still standing. The more familiar El Morro went up six years later to guard the harbor entrance. Balconied houses and winding, narrow streets evoke images of 16th century Spain's daring.

The commonwealth bans modern construction in Old San Juan and helps restore old buildings for use as apartments or small restaurants and shops.

But even here one gets the sensation of a losing fight against what Nationalists call "frankfurter and cola" culture. Some of El Morro's mysterious chambers hum with the sound of electric water coolers. The walls echo the crack of golf balls — two holes of a nearby course are in the fortress moats.

After sundown, the musical sounds of mid-20th century U.S.A. — including the electric guitar — take over behind colonial facades. Hot-eyed young girls work the dark streets. In some dimly lit spots, late at night, hot-eyed young men, in skintight slacks, the badge of their trade, wait to be asked to dance or drink — by other men.

To hear some American tourists, San Juan's Spanish atmosphere and beaches are "just an excuse" to come here on vacation. The real reason is gambling.

San Juan hasn't quite replaced pre-Castro Havana in this phase of tourist activity, but every major hotel has a casino and the city is brisk during the winter season, January-March.

State Court Affirms Zoning Law

LITTLE ROCK (UPI) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today affirmed a zoning ordinance passed by the city of Stuttgart, saying it would not decrease the value of land owned by a shoe factory.

The ruling upholds one by the Arkansas County Chancery Court. It said the city had correctly allowed the Baldwin Oil Co. to build a 48,000 gallon gasoline storage tank near the plant of the Stuttgart Shoe Real Estate Corp. The shoe firm claimed the tank would endanger the safety of its employees, increase its insurance rate and decrease the value of its property.

Justice Paul Ward said the City Council thoroughly considered all the possibilities the shoe company mentioned before it rezoned the property.

In other opinions the court: — sent back the robbery conviction of William Farrar to the Lee County Circuit Court. It said the evidence against him was insufficient. Farrar had been convicted of stealing $280 from Lafayette O'Donald and sentenced to one year in prison, — affirmed a $1,000 fine against Don Warren in Sharp County Circuit Court for selling liquor illegally in a dry section of the county. It said Warren's constitutional rights had not been violated.

Schedule of The President

MANILA (AP) — President Johnson's schedule at the Manila summit conference on Viet Nam with local times and corresponding Eastern Daylight Times in parentheses:

Tuesday
10 a.m. (10 p.m. Monday) — Private meeting.
1 p.m. (1 a.m. Tuesday) — Working luncheon with leaders of six other nations at the conference and their foreign ministers.

3 p.m.-4:30 p.m. (3 a.m.-4:30 a.m.) — Private meeting for final talks and communique.
8:30 p.m. (3:30 a.m.) — Informal dinner at President Marcos' palace with native festival.

U. S. in Bid to Swap Out Prisoners

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
MANILA (AP) — The United States is asking the Manila summit conference to make a bid for some agreement to swap prisoners with Communist North Viet Nam, it was learned today.

The United States wants to include such a bid in the meeting's final statement, to be signed at the windup Tuesday. Officials in Washington believe North Viet Nam is holding more than 100 Americans.

North Viet Nam has spurned all attempts to talk about the American pilots it holds, even through a third party.

The International Red Cross has tried without success to get Hanoi to allow Red Cross representatives to see the Americans held prisoner in the North.

Although a hard liner toward negotiations with North Viet Nam, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky of South Viet Nam has shown a sympathetic attitude toward possible exchanges to free American fliers from Red captivity. The Saigon government has custody of most North Vietnamese captured in the ground fighting.

The only North Vietnamese the United States is known to hold are 19 sailors picked up in international waters after their PT boats were sunk in action.

Agreement by the North Vietnamese to negotiate on the question of war prisoners could be a wedge for wider talks on the Viet Nam war itself.

Expects LBJ to Sign ALL Legislation

By DICK BARNES

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to sign into law virtually all the legislation passed in the rush to adjournment by Congress.

Much of it is for his "Great Society" program — and some is greater than he asked.

Some key programs could be signed by Johnson even before he returns to the United States Nov. 2 from his Pacific-Asian tour.

The lengthy second session of the 89th Congress ended late Saturday afternoon after two years of record spending and government involvement in new fields.

The final outpouring of legislation included a $6.1-billion elementary and secondary school aid bill for the next two years that is a whopping $1.7 billion above what Johnson asked.

The President's demonstration cities program — designed to show what an all-fronts attack on poverty can do — won late approval at $1.26 billion, less than half what he asked.

Lawmakers voted each major political party a potential $30-million kitty for the 1968 presidential election campaign. The program would permit taxpayers to divert $1 from their income tax to the campaign.

The adding machines are still clacking away trying to figure out how much Congress went over or under Johnson's recommendations in specific areas.

The two-year appropriation total of $263 billion stands as a record, with this year's $144 billion a close second to the one-year record of $147 billion set in 1942, the first full year of World War II.

Fighting in Viet Nam in a Lull

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Small-scale fighting flared Monday in scattered sections of South Viet Nam, but the war for the most part continued in a lull. Thunderstorms of the northeast monsoon again hit heavily into U.S. air blows against North Viet Nam.

Although a general upsurge in Communist military activity and terrorism failed to develop to coincide with the opening of the Manila summit conference, a civilian bus hit a Viet Cong mine 22 miles north of Hue, killing 15 Vietnamese and injuring 20.

The Viet Cong made mortar attacks on four South Vietnamese outposts in the central highlands Sunday and two on American positions in the northern provinces today.

In one shelling, the Reds fired 30 to 40 mortar rounds against the command post of the U.S. 7th Marine Regiment about two miles south of the demilitarized zone.

The Leathernecks replied with counter-mortar fire, and a 7th Fleet destroyer fired 100 rounds of five-inch shells. Marine casualties were reported light; results of the counterfire were not announced.

A unit of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade received 15 rounds of Communist mortar fire eight miles northwest of Da Nang airfield. A U.S. spokesman said the paratroopers had light casualties.

Johnson in Phillipines for Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

AP Special Correspondent

MANILA (AP) — The U.S. commander in Viet Nam told the Manila summit conference today the war is "far from over" and he will need more troops in the days ahead, but President Johnson said a display of unity by the allies here should provide new fuel for the cause of peace.

"Let the bullets of the world know that when they do attack their neighbors, the friends of their neighbors will be there to resist," the President said in this first day of meetings among the leaders of nations fighting Communists in Viet Nam.

Johnson was the last speaker of the day. His remarks came after Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander, reported to the leaders that allied forces are increasing effective in battling the Communists.

Westmoreland said troop morale was high.

"The troops are the finest ever fielded; they understand the conflict and appreciate their complex role as both fighters and builders."

The session in which Westmoreland and the President spoke was closed to the public, but their remarks were given to newsmen later by U.S. spokesmen.

Johnson summed up what he portrayed as the four main principles which had stood out in the talks of those leaders who spoke before him. He listed them as:

"The determination of all that aggression must fail."

Commitment to the job of pacification.

"Our commitment to our awareness of regional cooperation" among Asian countries.

The hope for reconciliation and a peaceful settlement.

Before Johnson spoke, Westmoreland was asked by one of the conferees if he would need more troops in Viet Nam. He replied that he would. But a top military informant explained later this need is due, at least in part, to plans to put increasing emphasis on clearing and holding areas of South Viet Nam for pacification and reconstruction.
